

T U E S D A Y, OCTOBER 25, 1768.

W A R S A W, JULY 23.

THERE is a new Confederacy formed at Gsin, about twelve miles from Thorn, in Great Poland. We are in hourly expectation of news from Cracow, of which, it is supposed, the Russians are in possession, and if they meet with any resistance, it is feared much blood has been spilt.

JULY 25. Marshal Kretzschmar, at the head of his corps, is now at Tarnopol, from whence a line is formed to the confines of Transylvania. In the mean while, General Apraxin and Count Brancich, have taken their respective posts; the former near Moldau, to hinder the passage of the Bar Confederacy into Poland; and the latter in the Ukraine towards Tarnopol, to suppress the insurrection of the Peasants.

Every thing is quiet in this City; but the Tribunals are without employment, and trade is going to decay.

JULY 27. Five new Confederacies are established, which, though not very formidable, occasion a good deal of trouble. The Cracovian Confederacy still continues, but cannot subsist long, as the Russian troops before Cracow are reinforced every day.

We have advice, that a Prussian regiment of Hussars have entered Lithuania, and taken up their quarters in the Starosty which belongs to the House of Brandenburg. Several bodies of light cavalry are stationed on the borders of Silesia and Ducal Prussia, to preserve tranquillity in those parts.

One bad circumstance which attends our confederacies, is the pretext which they afford to the practice of pillage and robbery, by which our roads are made dangerous to travellers. The Prince Primate's Commissary General was lately plundered by some pretended Confederates.

It is reported, that the Russian General Count Apraxin is marched with a great number of troops to the hill country on the side of Hungary, in order to prevent any communication between the Confederates of Sanock and those of Cracow.

MADRID, July 18. An Embargo was yesterday laid on all our ships, which, it is said, are going to be taken up on a King's account, to transport ammunition, &c. to Cadix, Salaga, Carthage, and Ferrol; and orders are dispatched for better guarding the coast, and especially the island of Majorca.

STASOV, August 6. Our letters from Italy, this morning received, inform us that General Pauli is ill at Corsica; and that France had requested of the King of Sardinia a port in his territory, to serve as a magazine or storehouse for the French troops in Corsica, but that his Sardinian Majesty had refused to grant it.

PARIS, August 15. The King's troops which were in the Town of Bastia in Corsica, not having a communication with those in St. Florent, although the distance between them was only three leagues, Count de Marbois signified in writing to M. Pauli, the necessity of securing such communication; but Pauli, without returning any answer, immediately caused an attack to be made on the French troops. Upon this proceeding Count de Marbois, who was at Bastia, and Field Marshal de Grand Maillon, who was at St. Florent, carried off seven redoubts from the Corsicans, sword in hand, took possession of Patrimonia and Barbagia, and established the communication. Twelve hundred men were employed in this operation, of whom twenty were killed and forty wounded. The Corsicans were reckoned at 4000.

CORSICAN INTELLIGENCE.

Regulations of the General Consulta of the Kingdom of Corsica, opened at Corte on the 22d Day of May, in this present Year 1768.

IN consequence of the account which his Excellency the General of the Kingdom hath given us of the present state of the public affairs of this nation, and in respect of the constant and obstinate attempts of the Republic of Genoa to render fruitless every scheme of accommodation, the zeal of the people is universally excited, and all ranks unanimously concurring in the firm resolution to maintain by every possible means, their liberty and independency, to prosecute the war against the Genoise in order to expel them entirely from the Island at the termination of the four years fixed for the stay in Corsica of the French troops, and for every other good purpose, the General Consulta hath come to the following determinations:

I. All the militia of the Kingdom shall be put under a uniform regulation, according to a project which has been formed for that purpose: in order to put this project in execution, Commissaries shall be dispatched into all the pieves, who shall also take an exact list of all the fire-arms, and of all the men fit to carry arms in each pieve.

II. There shall also be a considerable augmentation made of the troops in pay.

III. For supplying the expence of the war and maintaining of these troops, the ordinary provisions of the public Chamber of Finances not being sufficient, the General Consulta hath ordered for this year a tax of four livres per thousand upon all pieves, fruits, merchandize, and all other sort of goods of whatever nature, excepting only dwelling houses; providing, however, that families who do not possess more than a thousand livres, shall pay only one livre to this tax.

IV. This tax shall take place immediately after the rising of the General Consulta, with this exception, that a delay of some months shall be granted to persons who are less able than others. The Supreme Government shall dispute, in every jurisdiction and province, persons of probity and zeal to assist this matter, during the present exigency, the tax being to be employed solely for the necessities of war, and the maintenance of the troops.

V. The Clergy of the kingdom, in order to animate the People still more by their example, having upon this occasion given the usual proofs of their worthy zeal for the common cause, by a voluntary offer on the part of the secular Clergy of a tenth of all their benefices, and on the part of the regular Clergy of a hundred livres for each Convent. Their contribution shall be received by Deputies chosen by the Clergy themselves, out of their own body.

VI. A corps of observations shall be immediately formed.

VII. In consideration of the scarcity occasioned by carrying out a number of cattle from the Island, and from the appearance of a bad harvest, the General Consulta hath charged the Supreme Government to take care that provisions shall not be carried out of the dominions of the nation.

L O N D O N, AUGUST 12.

YESTERDAY died, in the 75th year of his age, greatly lamented, Peter Collison, Esq; fellow of the royal and antiquarian societies: He was seized with a retention of urine, from which calamitous situation the most skillful endeavours were unable to relieve him: He supported his disorder from the first to the closing scene, with the truest resignation and fortitude of mind.

Extract of a letter from Dover, August 9.

"This morning, the 13th regiment of foot, commanded by General Murray, embarked on board four transports, which arrived here yesterday from the Downs. They have orders to sail immediately to Ireland, to receive two regiments on duty at Cork, which are to embark on board the same transports, and to proceed immediately to Bolton, in America."

Extract of a letter from Virginia.

"By yours of May the 31st, I find that you in England are much disgusted with the conduct of us Americans respecting the resolution which we have taken, not to comply with the payment of such taxes as the late house of commons in England have been pleased to impose upon us. But pray let me desire you to consider the reasons which I shall lay before you, and then judge whether the imputations of rebellion do really belong to us."

"First, then, we in no sense dispute the sovereignty of our King over us: we know that by the constitution he has the undoubted right of bestowing all lands which are conquered or acquired by his subjects, in whatever manner he pleases; and to establish what form of government he shall think proper. If this be not allowed, the constitution of England can have no just foundation; for certain it is, that the house of commons was always considered by the King's writs, directed to counties and boroughs, and so far appearing to arise from the royal will. If such be the truth, as it undoubtedly is, the same power which gave being to that body in England, has given it also to us in America: and wherefore shall we be stigmatized with the ignominy of being rebels when your ancestors have been so justly applauded for their deeds of patriotism, in supporting the rights which were granted them by the like kingly authority."

"The right of taxing yourselves, you enjoy from the great charter of liberty, instituted in the reign of king John, renewed in that of Henry the third, and more than thirty times confirmed in the subsequent reigns: every act of the reconfirming this charter, you esteem as the most laudable of human transactions, and each as a sacred barrier against the arbitrary power of any prince who may presume to invade it. Why then are we to be execrated and condemned for our endeavours to support our rights of a similar nature which have been granted to us by charters, and from the same power that granted Magna Charta to your and our ancestors?"

"It is true, that in Magna Charta, the rights of taxing yourselves was granted in consequence, as is expressly said, of so much money given to the king to that purpose: but by this it is confessed that the crown had the right of granting that liberty, or otherwise your progenitors purchased what the sovereign could not part with; a circumstance which I presume you will not allow; but from thence it seems to follow, that the rights which one king could sell to his subjects, another has the same title to give away. And as by our charters we have received this donation, it will be more becoming the principles of freemen and Englishmen, to allow that we are justifiable in endeavouring to preserve what has been bequeathed to us as legally, as it has been to you, than to deem us rebels. Whenever you shall resign your privileges, we shall weigh the example and follow it if it be agreeable. Till that time comes we shall behave as men who are entitled to our rights of charter and freedom, and behave as those have done whom you have dignified with the glorious appellation of patriots, because they have defended those very rights which we pretend to claim on the same conditions with yourselves."

"Liberty, it is asserted by Englishmen is the birth right of human kind, and that tenet we adopt in full force. Let me now state the following proposition: can any people be said to be free, who are subjected to the taxation of any kind of government at their will, and who, whilst they tax that people, do not tax themselves likewise: that this is the case respecting us and the last house of commons, is certainly true. Answer me then candidly, should such a power then of imposing duties on the Americans be conceded to, are we on equal terms of freedom with you, where no such power is allowed? or can we be said to be in any sense a free people? as men we are certainly entitled to the privilege of humanity, for I suppose you will hardly deny that in nature we have a left claim to freedom than yourselves. As descendants from Englishmen, we have a just claim to the pri-viliges which you enjoy; as freemen we think ourselves capable of receiving the same advantages from Charters as you are; and as subjects, we are determined to be loyal to the king, to support his just rights and dignities, and to raise such taxes as our situations and circumstances will bear, and by the constitutional means which his ancestors have granted, which ours enjoyed, and which you enjoy at present."

AUGUST 13. His Majesty's frigate the Hussar, Hyde Parker, Esq; commander, is ordered to be re-fitted at Cork, and to be got in immediate readiness for conveying the transports destined to carry the 64th and 65th regiments of foot to Boston in New-England.

Saturday Colonel Scott set out from his house in Pall-mall, for New-York, to join his regiment at that place.

Betts of 100 guineas to 10 were offered a few evenings since at a Coffee-house, at the west-end of the town, that there would be no war between England and France for three years to come.

His Majesty's sloop of war Trial, is put into commission at Deptford, and the command given to Captain William Phillips.

On Wednesday evening at a meeting of gunsmiths, the toast-master gave the following toast—"A speedy and perpetual war, for the honour of Old England and the benefit of trade."

AUGUST 16. There are now living at Rochester, three maiden aunts, and three at Town Malden, in Kent, all sisters, whose ages together amount to 370 years.

AUGUST 17. The resignation of a certain patriotic General, is greatly regretted by the military, especially those who had the happiness of serving under his command in North-America, where, by his obliging, affable, and generous behaviour, he gained the love and esteem of all orders of the community in general, as well as the hearts of the soldiery, to whom he was in the strictest sense, the common father.

Whilst party feuds, inattention, and sloppiness in the ministry, decay of trade, dissatisfaction in our colonies, and disorders reign among us; our ancient inveterate enemies are pursuing every possible salutary measure. 'Tis a worthy observation ever since the conclusion of the late war to the present time, the French ministry have adopted, and carried into execution the most beneficial plans for the internal, as well as external police, inasmuch, that a few years more will render that nation once more the terror if not the scourge of Europe, where its influence is daily gaining ground. Augmenting their marine, establishing an invaluable fishery, and the possession of Corsica, are master-pieces of their refined policy, and evidently merit the highest encomiums by every true born Frenchman, and lover of his country. Whether such patriotic virtues are worthy imitation this side the water, our travelled great ones can best discover.

A few days ago died after a lingering illness, in an advanced age at Plymouth, John Huxham, M. D. fellow of the royal society, and of the royal college of physicians at Edinburgh, in what degree he was an able and ingenious physician, his several works, which were highly esteemed by the most experienced physicians of this nation, and translated into most of the languages of Europe, bear the testimony. He was arrived at such a degree of eminence that a great number of diseased persons from every part of this kingdom resorted to him for his advice till within a few weeks of his death. His fortune, which is very considerable, he has bequeathed to his two children, viz. the Rev. John Gorham Huxham, and Miss Huxham.

AUGUST 18. It is said, that Lord H——— and the D—— of B—— are the principal persons now consulted, and whose opinion and advice have great weight.

The gentlemen who are to sail in a few days for George's Land, the new discovered island in the Pacific ocean, with an intention to observe the Transit of Venus, are likewise, we are credibly informed, to attempt some new discoveries in that vast unknown tract, above the latitude 40.

AUGUST 19. It is said that Mr. Garrick will shortly appear in the character of Luffenau, in the tragedy of Zara, before his Danish Majesty.

A letter from Brussels mentions, that Prince Charles of Lorraine's grand review of the Austrian troops will be on the plains at Mons in a few days; and that his Royal Highness the Duke of Gloucester was expected to honour the review with his presence.

AUGUST 20. It is whispered at the west-end of the town, that an illustrious foreigner intends to visit the King's Bench prison, in order to see a patriotic gentleman there.

It is said the present intended voyage round the world will cost the gentleman, on whose motion, it is made, 20,000l. This gentleman is not less to be admired for his taste, than his public-spiritedness, in risking his life, and dedicating so great a share of his property in the pursuit of new articles of commerce, or new countries, for the advantage of his own. Such an advantage is well worthy the attention of all those, whose good fortune has given them the ability to prosecute such designs. One consequence must certainly result from success in such undertakings, that while they, who are employed in them, are benefiting their country by discovery of this nature, they, at the same time, raise to themselves an everlasting monument.

The Favourite sloop of war is put into commission at Sheerness, and the command given to Capt. William Maltby.

It is said that orders are issued for all the officers in garrison at Gibraltar, to join their respective corps immediately.

So fashionable it is become in France to study the English language, that we are told there is scarce a house of distinction, but has an English tutor in it.

There is now living in Lady Dacre's alm-house, Westminster, one Mrs. Windimore, whose maiden name was Hyde; she was grand-daughter to Dr. Hyde, Bishop of Salisbury, brother to the great Lord Chancellor Hyde, and Earl of Clarendon, and lost her fortune in the South-Sea Year, 1720. She retains her senses in a tolerable degree, and her principal complaint is, that she has out-lived all her friends, being now upwards of 100 years of age.

By recent accounts from Dublin we are assured, that all the numbers of the North-Briton, to the 45th exclusive, are now, and have been ever since the first publication of them, publicly sold there at every bookseller's shop, without being under the least apprehension of danger on that account, which shows, that notwithstanding how much that nation is oppressed in other respects, the press, the great palladium of liberty, is more free there than here at the fountain head, where we boast of having so much liberty above that and all other countries.

It appears from the account of one Mrs. Windimore, now in Lady Dacre's alm-house, Westminster, that the said Mrs. Windimore is a distant cousin of their late Majesties Queen Mary and Queen Anne, whose mother was Lady Anne Hyde. Dutches of York, whose Royal consort was afterwards King James II. a lively instance of the mutability of all worldly things, that a person related to two crowned heads, should by the strange caprice of fortune, be reduced to live in an alm-house.

American affairs at present draw the attention of the whole nation. The Right Hon. Lord Botsford is just appointed Governor of Virginia, and Lord Lieutenant of all America. He is preparing to set out, a 60 gun ship being appointed to carry him over to Boston, where it is said there will be a general meeting of the governors. The present state of the colonies will be enquired into, their claims and grievances examined, and every thing relating to them adjusted on a new and firm footing.

Lord Botsford has an estate of 25 or 30,000 pounds sterling a year, is Lord Lieutenant and Custos Rotulorum of the county of Gloucester, Constable of St. Briavel's castle, and Colonel of the Gloucestershire militia.

AUGUST 22. We are credibly informed, that his Royal Highness the Duke of Cumberland in his intended tour, is to make some stay at the court of Lisbon.

On Saturday a private Council was held at Lord Weymouth's office, Cleveland-Row, at which the great officers of State assisted, said to be on account of some dispatches received from the North-American colonies.

A monument to the memory of the late General Wolfe will shortly be erected in one of the enclosed chapels in Westminster-Abbey.

It is said, that for the benefit of the Beaver and Fur trade, which has been greatly on the decay ever since small hats came into fashion, a person of distinction intends to use his interest in a club of noblemen and gentlemen at the west end of the town, (of which he is a member) to get them to wear large manly hats, in hopes, by their example, to bring them into fashion; by which means the price of fur and beaver would be enhanced, and the French by this means be in a great measure prevented from smuggling these commodities into France, and running them hither again when manufactured into hats, to the great detriment of our own manufacturers, who, for want of employment at home, are forced to seek it in France.

A letter from Porto Ferrai, dated July 19, says, "All the letters from Corsica confirm, that the French troops in that island desert in great number; they add, that those deserters having put on the rustic habit of the natives, follow husbandry, and carry on divers trades, which is very beneficial to the islanders, who are thereby enabled to attend wholly to the defence of their country."

They write from Leghorn, that seventy French piquets had perished by the blowing up of a mine sprung by the Corsicans in the neighbourhood of St. Fiorenzo.

S. and Mr. Lerpiniere, of Bethnal-green, should go to sea, in any of his Majesty's ships, to try experiments on their new-invented Universal Quadrants, &c. and that a full account of their success should be published at their return.

AUGUST 24. It is said orders will soon be given to prevent the exportation of either naval or military stores, gunpowder, &c. to any part of North-America.

It is said, that Major Rogers, late Governor of Michilimackinac, had made some very important discoveries since his confinement; accounts of which have been lately transmitted hither.

Monday a packet from Lisbon brought some dispatches of importance to the Secretary of State's office, from his excellency William Henry Littleton, Esq; his Majesty's Ambassador at the court of Portugal.

A report now prevails, that Admiral Sir Piercy Brett, with a formidable squadron, will soon be sent on an expedition of importance to the Mediterranean.

They write from Warsaw, that the Russian General Apraxin, after several forced marches, was arrived with his troops before Cracow, as well as the General Proscowski; so that the Russians have now several thousand men before that place. 'Tis added, that the Confederates have made divers sallies, but were always repulsed with loss, though not without some blood being likewise shed on the side of the Russians.

Letters from Hamburg of the 12th of August, advise, that the King of Prussia is forming considerable magazines, in different parts of his dominions. And that the court of Saxony is augmenting its troops. They add, that these circumstances give room to fear that a storm is gathering, though, it is said, that the Emperor has declared, that he will never give any occasion for a rupture.

A letter from Leghorn, dated July 27, says, "A report has prevailed here for some days, that an English ship, laden with cannon and ammunition for the use of the Malecontents of Corsica, hath been visited and stoped by a French frigate of war. If this is true, it will occasion great disputes between the two Courts."

They write from Leghorn, that a French man of war, of thirty guns, is attempting to land some troops at Fornali, in the gulf of St. Fiorenzo, had been beat off with the loss of all her masts, and seventy men killed and wounded, by a Corsican battery of twenty pieces of cannon; besides two transports in her convoy, sunk near the harbour's mouth.

They write from Cadiz, that several transports are now there and at Carthagens, taking on board artillery, troops and stores, said to be intended for the island of Corsica.

His Majesty has been pleased to constitute and appoint Guy Carleton, Esq; Captain-General and Governor in Chief in and over his Majesty's province of Quebec in America, to be Vice-Admiral of the same, in the room of the Hon. James Murray, Esq; who has resigned.

An evening paper of last night says, the trial of MacLane the soldier, charged with the murder of young Allen, will be published by authority.

AUGUST 26. It is reported, that a remonstrance will shortly be made by our court to the republic of Genoa, shewing the pernicious consequences of suffering the French to get footing in Corsica, particularly respecting the liberty, trade, and commerce of the Genoese, which will be in such a precarious situation in case the French become masters of Corsica, that it will be in the power of France totally to subvert and destroy them whenever she thinks proper.

We are informed, that a plan of accommodation is actually on foot respecting North-America, which, without wounding the dignity of government, will effectually settle all differences between Great-Britain and her colonies.

AUGUST 27. It is thought that the Parliament will assemble earlier than usual this Winter on account of the critical situation of affairs in America.

Some additional works are going to be made to the fortification of Gibraltar, pursuant to a plan that has been sent over by the Governor, which has been approved of, and will be soon carried into execution.

PLYMOUTH, August 9. This afternoon a frigate, belonging to the Dutch Admiral's squadron, lying in the Sound, joined him. Different are the opinions of our politicians, where this powerful armament is destined. It is indeed certain they are bound to the Mediterranean; and our Zealots for Liberty will have it, right or wrong, that they are going to assist the brave Corsicans; but let their destination be what it will, their appearance here is, I believe, very acceptable to every body, particularly to hummers, and those poor creatures, votaries to Venus, whose very existence depends upon a quick circulation, and they love an English frigate very well.

EDINBURGH, August 17. Last week the Marshal College of Aberdeen conferred the degree of Doctor of Medicine upon Mr. John Farquharson, from South-Carolina.

B O S T O N, SEPTEMBER 19.

Extract of a letter from London, dated August 4. "I am obliged to you for the intelligence respecting public affairs; what will be the issue I tremble to think, as there does not appear to be the least disposition in the administration to grant any relief to the well grounded complaints of the colonies."

Some persons are of opinion, that there was more policy than sincerity in the intimations lately given out, of the expected arrival of troops to be quartered here; and that it was designed to throw the inhabitants into a panic, to reconcile them to the return of the Commissioners; but the plan proves, like some others, ineffectual.

SEPTEMBER 26. It is reported the Governor has said, that he has three things in command from the ministry, more grievous to the people, than any thing hitherto made known. It is conjectured first, that the inhabitants of this province are to be disarmed; secondly, the province to be governed by martial law; and, lastly, that a number of gentlemen who have exerted themselves in the cause of their country, are to be seized and sent to Great-Britain.

N E W Y O R K, SEPTEMBER 26.

Wednesday last arrived here, the ship Friendship, Capt. Wilson, with two Companies of the Royal Artillery.

We have melancholly accounts from all the country within many miles of this city, of the great Drought now prevailing; that the grass is so dried up, that some already begin to fother their cattle; and we also hear it has been so cold a few days past, as to have a considerable frost at Newark.

OCTOBER 3. Capt. Leyscraft in twenty-six days from St. Croix, has brought but a very few hogheads of sugar; there being scarce any to be got at that island: He assures us, there were seven sail of Dutch ships there, waiting for a cargo, who were obliged to lay over to the next season, which by all appearance would be but an indifferent one.

Yesterday a schooner arrived here in seven days from Halifax, with advice, that the troops for Bolton, with several men of war, were failed the day before the last it.

G R E N A D A, AUGUST 13.

Last Tuesday evening about eight o'clock, it began to blow very violently from the N. W. and continued with unabating fury, accompanied with heavy rain and lightning, till near eleven. As the wind shifted to every point of the compass during the storm, there is too much reason to fear that it was only the tail of an hurricane, and that some of the neighbouring islands must have suffered greatly from its effects. It is not yet possible to ascertain the damage occasioned by it in this island; but by all accounts, it must be pretty considerable, as a number of negro huts have been blown down, and a great quantity of provisions, particularly plantains and cassada destroyed. This town has escaped without the least hurt, but the shipping in the bay have not been so lucky, the damage they have sustained is great, as will appear from the following accounts:

The Brig Lelah and Sufannah, Captain Stanton, ashore and bilged; the sloop Industry, Wilkinson, from Barbados, ashore and lost; the sloop ———, Simpson, from St. Eustatia, sunk; the sloop Prince of Orange, Cooper, belonging to this place, ashore, but got off much damaged; the snow Molly, Woodburn, belonging to Lancaster, lost from Africa, with 120 slaves, ashore in Grand-Ancr, but is thought will be got off, the slaves are saved; the ship —, Captain Troupe, belonging to London, lost from Antigua, drove on shore, but was got off last Thursday with little damage; a sloop, belonging to Captain Smith, of the ship General Woodley, ashore near Halifax Harbour, got off with the loss of her mast; the sloop Sally, Jeremiah Brown, belonging to Rhode-Island, ashore at St. Patrick's; but it is thought will be got off; the schooner ———, belonging to this place, ashore at St. Patrick's, and bilged, with eight hogheads of sugar on board; the brig Caesar, Augustine Seade, and sloop Chamboard, Thomas Fairwell, drove out of Laverna, and once arrived here.

Besides the above, we hear, that some other vessels have been stranded on different parts of the island, but have not yet been able to learn the particulars.

The loss suffered on this occasion by the shipping in the bay, it is said, might have been less considerable, had they had the precaution to put their vessels in a better state of safety, as early in the afternoon the weather was squally and portended a storm; but this may partly be attributed to their not suspecting the gale would be so violent, and partly to their not being so much on their guards, as vessels commonly are, at this season, in the islands where those disasters are frequent, this storm being the most severe that has happened here, within the memory of the oldest inhabitants.

The Captains of his Majesty's ships did every thing in their power to assist and relieve those in distress; and it is, in great measure owing to their spirited efforts, that so many vessels have been got off, their conduct, in short, on this melancholy occasion, reflects equal honour on their humanity, as on their abilities.

On the 6th Instant, about nine o'clock at night, the brig Nancy, Captain George Hamilton, bound from Bristol to this port, ran ashore on the island of Little St. Vincent's, which the Captain mistook for Corriouacon, and afterwards by some unknown accident the vessel took fire, and was totally consumed: A small part of the cargo is saved.

By his Honour's Command, THOMAS SKOTTOWE, Secr.

GOD SAVE THE KING.

C H A R L E S - T O W N, OCTOBER 25. FRIDAY last put in here in Distress, the Ship Amity's Advice, William Kenney, Master, from Jamaica for London.

David Grimes, Esq; Mr. Nathaniel Hall, of Georgia, and Mr. Peronneau, Son of Alexander Peronneau, Esq; came Passengers in Captain White, from London.

Captain Peyton of the 9th Regiment, with some Recruits for the said Regiment, in their Way to St. Augustine, came Passengers in Captain Gordon, from London.

George Milligen, Esq; is appointed Surgeon to all his Majesty's Troops serving in this Province.

Sunday last the Ship Friendship, James Cowan, Master, arrived here from Boroughdoness, who brought in with him Captain Thomas Clarke, late of the Ship Providence, of Colerain, bound to New-York, and 12 other Persons, which he took up on the 19th of September, out of a Long-Boat, after being eight Days in her at Sea, in want of Water and other Necessaries, the Ship having sprung a Leak in her Passage, and the Water gaining so much upon her, that the Captain with the above mentioned People were obliged to quit her, and take to their Boat, and four to the Yawl, leaving nineteen Persons in the Ship, who chose rather to remain on board her, the Boat not being large enough to carry them all. — The following are the Names of the People brought in here, viz. Mr. Jonathan Clarke Lewis and Wife, of Bolton; Mrs. Campbell, of Colerain, and two Children; Mrs. Campbell, of Antrim; Mr. Daniel Todd, of Colerain; Mr. John Willson, near Colerain; Mr. John Boyd, chief Mate of the Ship; Mr. Samuel Harvey, second Mate; Mr. Matthew Kerion, Boatwain, and Alexander Boldritch, Seaman.

The same Day put back, the Sloop Benjamin, of this Port, Captain Nathaniel Dickinson, who sailed on Saturday the 15th Instant for St. Christophers, but on the Sunday Evening following met with the same Gale of Wind that we had here, which threw his Vessel on her Broad-side, and having his Jib split to Pieces, he could not get her to right again, and therefore was obliged to cut away her Mast, by which Means he saved the Vessel, his own and People's Lives.

The same Day also put in here in great Distress, the Brig Grenock, — Malcom, late Master, bound from Jamaica to Edinburgh, having met with the aforesaid Gale of Wind, in which she lost her Masts, Bowprit, &c. and suffered other considerable Damage. — Captain Malcom was unfortunately washed overboard and drowned.

The same Day Captain Josiah Dickinson arrived here from Bermuda, in whom returned Mr. Mark Morris, and Miss Thomas, who lately went there to accompany Mrs. Morris for her Health, but she died shortly after their Arrival there.

The same Evening Capt. about five feet ten inches high; he has a remarkable large wound in the calf of his

Town, and most parts of the province, as to render any further description of him quite unnecessary. Since his absence he has been seen in several different houses and kitchens in the said town: I have therefore, from this, and other information, sufficient reasons to presume that he is harboured, entertained and encouraged by some white persons, to keep from my service, in expectation of my parting with him to them; I DO THEREFORE give this public notice to every one whom it may concern, that I am determined not to sell him for any sum of money that can be offered by any person whatever for a negro; But if the said fellow will forthwith return to me within one week from this date, I promise to overlook and forgive this offence. In the mean time I will give Ten Pounds currency reward to any person, white or black, that will deliver him to the warden of the work-house in Charles-Town. And after that time I will give Fifty Pounds currency reward for his head, should he make resistance in being taken by any person whatever, and the same sum if he is taken and delivered as aforesaid, and sufficient proof is made of his being harboured by a white person, or Ten Pounds if harboured by a negro, on conviction of the offender. All masters of vessels and others are hereby forewarned not to carry him off the province, as they or their securities may be assured of being prosecuted with the greatest severity, and every advantage taken that the laws of the province will admit of.
